If your paperback is printed with black ink, you can choose cream or white paper. For paperbacks with color ink, you can choose white paper, which shows a higher contrast for images and graphics. For example, you're publishing a textbook with lots of images, tables, and charts. White paper will make these visual elements more striking.

The U.S. health care system uses commercial algorithms to guide health decisions. Obermeyer et al. find evidence of racial bias in one widely used algorithm, such that Black patients assigned the same level of risk by the algorithm are sicker than White patients (see the Perspective by Benjamin). The authors estimated that this racial bias reduces the number of Black patients identified for ...

Hi dear friends, I was lucky enough to make a trip to Florida for a month and I was hosted by a friend known on the web through my tube of you tube named "MicheleExpert" he is called Frank Daniels and lives in Naples. I live in Calabria (Italy) and it was the first time I took a plane, no less than 8500 kilometers non-stop from Rome to Miami. I found my brother Frank and his wife Ellie at the exit of the airport and after two and a half hours we arrived at his villa in Naples. Naples is a small but beautiful Florida town where many American retirees live to live in the sea and in peace their retirement. Frank is a lover of Italian cuisine and I have been putting you on a tube for years of great Calabrian dishes. We cooked together a few times but then we traveled both in the Caribbean and in the Everglades. We spent together a week-long cruise departing from Miami and then visiting the legendary Key West, Coco Cay's private beach, Nassau, the imposing Atlantic Paradise Hotel (Island Paradise) with its fabulous aquarium, then the Naples beach. and the nightlife of the clubs, the Naples zoo. In this month from 7 February to 7 March 2018 I admired a world that I did not know and having the passion of photography I made this photo book in pdf format of my adventure in black and white because I think it is beautiful and fascinating. The photos you see start from Naples, then an exploratory visit walking on a wooden bridge of an area of the Everglades, close encounters with alligators and snakes gave me chills and fear but everything went well, then on the Royal cruise ship to the Key West, visit of the legendary city and return to the ship, then a day on the private beach of Coco Cay, then Nassau and Island Paradise among the wonders of the Atlantic Paradise Resort. All beautiful and spectacular I had never seen such enchanting and majestic places! The last two weeks of vacation, we have lived in many places in Florida and could not miss a ride with motorboat in the Everglades marshes. Then, after the end of my trip to Florida, we visited the Naples zoo and did not miss the emotions that both the animals like giraffes and dromedaries transmitted to me. I was very close to the Daniels family and they too were excited when we said goodbye to the Miami airport, it binds us a friendship happened by chance because of my video of you tube cooking that I did with mom Rosa who left me a few months to which Frank was very close and considered her a second mother. Thanks to the American people that you welcomed me as a star and have made me live a wonderful month with you of which I will bring an indelible memory and I hope that my book can reach many of you will make you protagonists of my spending holiday in Florida hosted by an exceptional man named Frank Daniels. A hug to all of you and a warm greeting from Michele Filippelli, Cropolati (CS) Italy.

This book is long awaited within the contemporariily creative field of cultural psychologies. It is a theoretical synthesis that is at the level of innovations that Sigmund Freud, James Mark Baldwin, William Stern, Kurt Lewin, Jean Piaget, Lev Vygotsky and Jan Smedslund have brought into psychology over the past century. Here we can observe a creative solution to integrating cultural psychology with the rich traditions of psychodynamic perspectives, without repeating the conceptual impasses in which many psychoanalytic perspectives have become caught.

This volume explores the reorganisation of knowledge taking place in the course of Galileo's research process extending over a period of more than thirty years, pursued within a network of exchanges with his contemporaries, and documented by a vast collection of research notes. It has revealed the challenging objects that motivated and shaped Galileo's thinking and closely followed the knowledge reorganization engendered by theses challenges. It has thus turned out, for example, that the problem of reducing the properties of pendulum motion to the laws governing naturally accelerated motion on inclined planes was the mainspring for the formation of Galileo's comprehensive theory of naturally accelerated motion.

' When a work reaches its maximum intensity, ' wrote Le Corbusier, ' a phenomenon of ineffable space occurs. ' The ultimate quality of architecture would reside, therefore, in the resistance to its description. However, to tell us this, and much more, the Swiss master has published more than seventy books and his so compelling formula in supporting the ineffable also shows how words are able to grasp it. This brief essay investigates the multiple intersections between discourse and design: the way buildings try to ' talk ' with their own specific means; how architects are trying to remain relevant without building; the paradoxes of architecture description after its completion; the modes of communication during the project processes; the capacity of narrative to act before the project operations start and infiltrate the collective perception, making possible innovative approaches...
