This is a pocket-sized traveler's guide to some of the best walking and best pubs in the Lake District. The walks are grouped geographically and also explore some of the region's fascinating historical and literary heritage, as well as its thriving brewing scene. The book contains essential information about local transport and accommodation. The walks include Settle and Upper Ribblesdale, Whitby to Robin Hood's Bay, Bront   country: Haworth and Ponden, Sheffield: Kelham Island and the "valley of beer," and Hull's old town: a fishy trail.

Peter Thomas's introduction to the county's pubs opens with a brief chapter about the history of brewing and pubs, and a short history of pub signs in Yorkshire. Most of the book is dedicated to a round-up of interesting inns - their history and architecture, ghosts and legends associated with them, and famous and infamous landlords and landladies.

Includes some of the finest, iconic views of the coast of Cornwall - where land meets sea, meets sky.

A guidebook to 43 circular day walks covering the northern and eastern Yorkshire Dales. The walks range between 3 and 11.5 miles in length, and there are suggestions for devising longer days by combing routes. Step by step route directions include lots of information about the area, and each walk is illustrated with clear OS mapping and vibrant photographs. From Pateley Bridge and Aysgarth in the East to Kirkby Stephen and Richmond in the north, each valley has a character and history of its own and this guide covers the varied fell and dale landscapes of the Howgills, Mallerstang, Swaledale, Wensleydale, Coverdale and Nidderdale. The north and eastern regions of the Yorkshire Dales are full of wild, rugged fell tops carved by limestone crags, deep scooped-out dales with lonely farms far from villages, the ruins of medieval castles as well as the warm bustle of Dales villages and good pubs. The Howgills north of Sedbergh have a different look, with their wide domes, steep sides and long miles of grassy ridges.
