Explanatory Notes to the Harmonized System: Although not legally binding, these are helpful in determining the correct classification. Harmonized Tariff Schedule (HTS): The US HTS code has 10-digits. The first six (6) digits of the HS code are standard, meaning that all countries use the same six digits to classify a commodity; the remaining four (4) digits are unique from country to country and used for statistics.

This international goods nomenclature is being used by more than 200 countries and Customs or Economic Unions across the globe and currently regulates almost 98% of world trade. With the new version of the Harmonized System coming into force on 1 January 2007, this Customs Compendium is the perfect guide for those who have a stake in international business affairs today.
