This is a step-by-step guide to writing a short persuasive argument. The book is directed towards students and business people who have trouble putting their arguments into a structured, coherent format. The technique it presents is also a useful way for experienced writers to turn out a brief persuasive argument under time pressure. After a very quick review of some basic principles of writing, the reader will learn how to write a topic sentence. She will then learn a simple way to write sentences that support the topic sentence. Next she will learn - cookbook style - how to put topic and supporting sentences together to form a paragraph and how to organize paragraphs into an argument. Finally, she will consider whether and how she might want to deal with arguments that the other side might make to try to undermine hers. Unfortunately, knowing how to write a short persuasive argument is almost a lost art these days. This brief guide is an easy way to pick up this important skill.

A hilarious companion to I Wanna Iguana. Ever since their baby sister came along, Alex has been forced to share a room with his little brother, Ethan, and it's a nightmare. Ethan always breaks stuff, snores like a walrus, and sticks crayons up his nose. No hardworking, well-behaved, practically grown-up boy like Alex should have to put up with that! Writing letters to his mom convinced her to let him get his pet iguana, so Alex puts pencil to paper again, this time determined to get his own room. Though all of his powers of persuasion can't get his dad to expand the house, he does come through with a fun alternative to give Alex some space of his own.

Alex just has to convince his mom to let him have an iguana, so he puts his arguments in writing. He promises that she won't have to feed it or clean its cage or even see it if she doesn't want to. Of course Mom imagines life with a six-foot-long iguana eating them out of house and home. Alex's reassurances: It takes fifteen years for an iguana to get that big. I'll be married by then and probably living in my own house. and his mom's replies: How are you going to get a girl to marry you when you own a giant reptile? will have kids in hysterics as the negotiations go back and forth through notes. And the lively, imaginative illustrations show their polar opposite dreams of life with an iguana.
