THE sheer opulence of Al Kabibi airport stunned Bethany. The acres of glossy marble floors, the huge crystal chandeliers and the preponderance of gold fittings made her blink and stare. 'Pretty impressive, eh?' Ed Lancaster remarked in the slow-moving queue to Visa Clearance. 'And yet five years ago there was nothing here but a set of concrete sheds and an unrelieved view of the sand ...

The Desert Bride, page 13. She had wanted more—all along she had wanted more, even when she'd been fighting with him and telling him that she didn't believe in marriage. She had had her dreams too, even if she hadn't acknowledged them. She had wanted him for ever, she had wanted him to love her, she had wanted him to prove to her that marriage could work between them against all the odds...and that was immeasurably more naive than anything he had expected, she conceded painfully.
