Public speaking is a skill like any other—to become great at it, you need to practice. But if you're like most, then you probably don't have a room full of people at the ready that you can speak in front of every day. Don't let that stop you from practicing, though. There are actually a ton of games and activities you can take advantage of that'll help you hone your chops and become the best presenter you can be without the need for a formal audience.

Powerful public speaking, self-confidence, and leadership training for youth 8 to 18 years old. Our do-it-yourself at home program for a single student provides 12 intensive lessons that involve exercises and speeches the student can perform safely at home with family - or at a gathering. Gabberz includes 4 pre-written speeches and all the study material the student needs. The parents or instructor do NOT need to know anything about public speaking. The program builds all information needed step-by-step through fun, interactive, self-paced, and effective training exercises that involve learning speaking and leadership concepts, writing speeches, leading audiences, and giving a variety of speeches in multiple formats. Gabberz helps build powerful communication and leadership skills for the shy, as well as the naturally outgoing. Gabberz Public Speaking for Kids, Tweens, and Teens is the most comprehensive self-study training guide on the market today with over 260 pages of entertaining material written to keep the student engaged and energized. Available now through most bookstores and online services.

Public speaking can be terrifying. For David Nihill, the idea of standing in front of an audience was scarier than cliff jumping into a thorny pit of spiders and mothers-in-law. Without a parachute or advanced weaponry. Something had to change. In what doesn't sound like the best plan ever, David decided to overcome his fears by pretending to be an accomplished comedian called "Irish Dave" for one full year, crashing as many comedy clubs, festivals, and shows as possible. One part of the plan was at least logical: he was already Irish and already called Dave. In one year, David went from being deathly afraid of public speaking to hosting a business conference, regularly performing stand-up comedy and winning storytelling competitions in front of packed houses. And he did it by learning from some of the best public speakers in the world: stand-up comedians. Do You Talk Funny?: 7 Comedy Habits to Become a Better (and Funnier) Public Speaker shows how the key principles of stand-up comedy can be applied to your speaking engagements and presentations to make you funnier, more interesting, and better looking. least two of the three.) Whether you are preparing for a business presentation, giving a wedding toast, defending your thesis, raising money from investors, or simply want to take on something you're afraid of, this book will take you from sweaty to stage-ready. You'll learn how to: - Craft a story and content that your audience will want to listen to - Find the funniest parts of your material and how to get to them faster - Deal with stage fright - Master the two most important parts of your performance: timing and delivery Ten percent of the author's proceeds from this book will go to Arash Bayatmakou via Help Hope Live until he is fully back on his feet and thereafter to one of the many facing the same challenges after suffering a severe spinal cord injury.

Do you fear public speaking? Whether you want to become a better speaker for fun, work, or to make big bucks on the speaking circuit this book is for you. Cliff Yates reveals all the secrets he has learned from thirty-five years as a police officer and a stand-up comedian which relate to fearless public speaking. Learn how to develop self-confidence on demand in any public speaking situation. Learn how to start where you are at, and take your public speaking to the next level. Does public speaking paralyze you and tie your stomach into knots? Want to get a standing ovation every time? What goes into a dazzling opening and closing? Does the prospect of facing embarrassing judgment make your palms sweat? Or do you want to learn how to absolutely own the stage and become a magnetic speaker? Public speaking and presenting is one of the most common phobias -- and it's completely understandable. When else in our lives are we so open and vulnerable? But it's a necessary evil in all aspects of our lives, whether professionally and personally. From making a presentation in the boardroom to being more confident with the opposite sex, your speaking skills will take you to the next level and get what exactly what you want in your life. Fearless Public Speaking is the rare book that will (1) help you destroy your anxiety so you can confidently take any stage, and (2) once you're up there, be unforgettable and captivating as a speaker. The tenets in this book come from studying the experiences of the best presenters in the world, from CEOs, standup comics, to actors, and more. Jason Bax, noted actor, speaker, and entrepreneur, lends his thoughts in a guest chapter. And me?
